Sabina's Corner

Porgera gold mine is an environmental disaster of a huge magnitude.

The river system has been buried some 200 feet by rock waste and the spillage has spread some 900 yards from what was once the bank of the river, and on top of that, the tailings are discharged over the river bed and it follows the spillage. Is this Barrick company aware of what damage it has done and continues to do each day? And then, why is it that Barrick cannot relocate the Tuanda landowners to safer grounds?

This government will favour foreigners with money, but not its people

IN THIS column some weeks ago, we said words to the effect:-

"What is now most obvious is that successive governments in this country are driven by economic considerations when it comes to major resource development in the country. It would seem that the moment they sight the cash flow projections and the moment they realize that monetary benefits to the government will be in millions and billions, they 'drop their pants' and run to the project developer's boardroom, all too eager to give into their demands like massive tax concessions and worse still, tax exemptions. It seems there are never any serious social impact studies or any other considerations for the social well-being of the people. All our economic planning and projects are undertaken in a vacuum as if we the people, do not exist."

It seems as if the government's formula for economic development does not encompass the people as the ultimate beneficiaries of the project. This is one of the reasons why successive governments have not stepped in and assisted the people in their fights with major resource developers in this country.

Take the case of the Tuanda Clan of Porgera, and their fights for a fair deal in a relocation exercise where they have to move out of the mining lease and settle elsewhere. The clan has had some 60% of its customary land allocated by the government to the mining company (Barrick), under a special mining lease and the remaining 405 is not habitable so the clan has nowhere else to go to. Thus, right now, the villagers are camping atop mountain tops whilst the mining company is tearing the mountains away and using the river system as a disposal site for the rock waste and the tailings from the mine. The company has not made any attempts to resettle the people elsewhere and out of the mining site.

And the government officers, whose job is to liaise with the mining company for the benefit of the landowners do not appear to have any inclination to step in for the people and demand that the company relocate them to a safer environment. They all act like they are on the company's payroll. For some unknown reason these government officers seem rather lethargic, impotent and powerless. We ask: Whom are these government officers acting for? And why is it that nothing is being done by the government to force Barrick to relocate these Porgera landowners to safer grounds?

Porgera gold mine is an environmental disaster of a huge magnitude. The river system has been buried some 200 feet by rock waste and the spillage has spread some 900 yards from what was once the bank of the river, and on top of that, the tailings are discharged over the river bed and it follows the spillage. Is this Barrick company aware of what damage it has done and continues to do each day? And then, why is it that Barrick cannot relocate the Tuanda landowners to safer grounds?

What is most obvious from the above case scenario, is that the resource owners are not treated by the government as partners in the economic development of this country? That is, the government does not treat its people as partners in the economic life of this country. Rather, the partnership now is between the national government and foreign capital. The people are isolated and ignored by the government and forced to fend for themselves whilst the government will side with the foreign company against the interests of its own people.

The resource owners are not only isolated. They are also being deprived of a voice to speak for themselves in defence of their status as resource owners; and a voice to air their concerns for their social wellbeing; and they are also deprived of their rights to defend their physical environment. This is the obvious effect of the recent amendment to the Environment Act 2000. More and more, the government is getting more powerful and the people are getting weaker and powerless.

As we said earlier, the partnership now is between the national government and foreign capital. The people are isolated and kept at bay to allow foreign capital to work wonders for the government. Yes, we concede that the resource owners do get monetary benefits from foreign capital, but such benefits are meager and constitute an incidental expense item in the company's profit and loss account. Meanwhile, the national government's inaction is driven either by lust for foreign capital or by a sense of indifference to the wishes of its people, or both.

It is our view that the business of government in this country is now conducted like a private business enterprise with the government ministers constituting the Board of Directors, the PM being the Executive Chairman of the Board, and their Departmental Heads and Heads of statutory institutions acting like big-time CEOs.

Thus, with the business of government conducted along the lines of a private business enterprise, the politician and his CEOs do not feel that they have any social obligation to the people. Meanwhile, take a look around and you can see that public institutions like the Royal PNG Constabulary is defunct; the machinery of justice is totally ineffective and self-serving; the machinery of government is corrupted; the people are poor and powerless; and those with money to buy their way around bureaucracy are the only people who can access government contracts for mega bucks and the most obvious ones are the corrupted construction companies in Port Moresby known for their sloppy road construction works and hefty contract payments with a huge bribery component to cater for the government facilitators.

If this government were faithful to its people, one would see a relationship of trust between the government and its people. The politician ought to play the role of a trustee holding office of guardianship and under obligation to discharge his duties as a trustee strictly for the benefit of the people who are the beneficiaries of the trusteeship. Alas, it is not so in this country. The business of government is conducted like a private business enterprise for the benefit of the politician, his associates, the departmental heads and heads of all statutory institutions.

We can only pray that the politician looks beyond his personal interest to acknowledge the people and their plight in this cruel world of money and materialism. We can only pray that the politician feels a sense of compassion for the people whom he has sworn to serve. And most of all, we can only pray that the politician, with grace, undergoes a 'change of heart' to relaise that there are other ideals of a higher order, greater than money and what money can buy.

Let the people of Papua New Guinea rise and praise God for his name is Holy. He will look down on us with compassion for he has heard our cries. He will send his Angels to guard over us against the political might of this worldly government and the economic power of its foreign business partners. Praise be to God!

Lae, long dispela wiken bai kapsait stret wantaim ol sapota bilong ragbi lig long Hailans.

Mendi, husat i no soim pes long las tupela fainols bai redi gut na kam long Lae long kisim dispela taitol na Bemobile Kap na go bek long Mendi.

Kosa Jack Kereme, husat em yet wanpela pilaia bilong Muruks long ol gutpela taim, i save olsem dispela win bai kamap wanpela switpela win stret.

Tupela yia i go pinis na ol i no stap insait long fainols. Tasol ol bai rivesim kilok i go bek long 2005, we ol i bin winim gren fainol aninit long sponsasip bilong Mabey and Johnson na nau aninit long SBS.

Dispela sponsasip em wanpela bikpela, we kampani bilong Inglan i bin helpim long sapotim dispela tim bilong Sauten Hailans Provins.

Goroka planti taim smelim dispela fainols long ol sisen i kam. Maski em i wokim gut i go insait long fainols, ol i no save go insait long semi fainols o gren fainol olsem long dispela yia na dispela tingting em bai strong long ol.

Gren fainol i no nupela samting long ol.

Oi save winim planti gren fainol tasol em ol narapela pilaia long narapela ol yia.

Long dispela yia, aninit long lukaut bilong Danga, husat em yet em wanpela Lahani, em i save wanem as na ol mas winim dispela pilai.

Ol mangi bilong tupela tim wantaim, husat i stap long Kumul husat bai go pilai long 4 Nesen long pinis bilong dispela mun bai stap wantaim ol na pinisim ol pilai bilong ol wantaim tupela tim bilong ol na bihain go joinim Kumuls long Australia.

Tupela tim wantaim i gat ol gutpela mangi long pilai. Long ol fowet na long ol beklain tu, i wankain. Tasol long gem plen bilong tupela tasol bai skelim tru husait bai win.

Ol fowet bilong tupela i luk wankain tasol long brukim difens wantaim ol traipel fowet bilong ol. Tasol problem bai stap wantaim ol beklain bi long tupela.
