KIKSTATIM DEI WANTAIM

Who should own the minerals, oil and gas in the ground?

THE preset debate on ownership of resources in the country represents a welcome move that is both timely and healthy.

The debate must be rational and based on substantive grounds. Thus, at the outset Peter Donigi and his supporters like the Honorable Sir Julius Chan are correct in their assertion that the rightful owners of all resources are the people of Papua New Guinea, and not some fictional character like "the State". We ask: Who is the "State" anyway, if it is not the people?

Thus, Sir Arnold Amet's argument that all minerals, oil and gas belong to the State, is an argument based on fiction, legal or otherwise. If it is the law that the State does own what is 10 feet or more below the surface of the ground, then let us ask Amet to tell us how the State must make such a claim. What is the foundation for such a law?

The Constituent Assembly was never given the mandate by the people to change the fundamental structure of customary ownership of land in this country. The whole purpose of the Assembly was to devise a "home grown" constitution for the people whilst at the same time preserving as much as possible the traditional way of life including ownership of land under customary tenure.

And as to why the so called "fathers" of the Constitution allowed the Constitution to empower the State to enact laws preserving rights to minerals, oil and gas in this country is not hard to guess. It is a colonial legacy that we adopted without any debate. It is a legacy based on the English notion of the Crown being the "papagraun" whereas the citizens are only regarded as "tenants" to limited interests at the pleasure of the Crown. Thus, based on this notion of the England Crown belong to the landlord and the ordinary Englishman being the tenant, it is easy to see that the Crown did reserve ownership of minerals, oil and gas in the ground in their legal system.

We adopted that system through the Australian colonies even though the American experience was far more superior to the Australian legal regime based on the English notion above.

We have now come 40 years after independence, and we have had time to see the practical side to the question of ownership of minerals, oil and gas in the country. And what we have seen and lived with for the last 40 years is not acceptable. Thus, we support Sir Julius and his lieutenant, Peter Donigi; that the system must now undergo change and change it must be. We must look at the way the Americans have handled this issue. And most importantly, there must be a change in the law to vest ownership of all resources to the people. We must get away from this fallacy that ownership must vest in a financial character called "the State".

Look at where we are now with all our mining and petroleum projects, our forest projects and our fisheries projects. We have blindly allowed the State to exercise rights of ownership including question of licensing and issuance of permit to foreigners to exploit these resources and what do we "the people", meaning, "real people" get. An absolute zero!

Any benefits derived are picked up by corrupted politicians and their civil servants.

Let us give the people what is rightfully theirs. We must change the law to vest ownership in the people who are the rightful owners of all these resources.

We have said it in this column before and we repeat here that the concept of statehood was a noble idea of uniting people under a single political, social and economic unit. And the idea that we should all place our resources in a common pool for the common good is also a noble idea.

However, these are only ideas and concepts which laid the foundation for the frame work of statehood and the machinery of government. The only way these ideas can be made to bear fruit within the given frame work is through human intervention or facilitation and this is where we have failed as a people; this is where we have failed as a nation of a thousand tribes; and this is where we have failed as a stone age culture making the leap into the information age. The people at the helm to steer the ship of state to greener pastures haven't got the hearts to make us realize the dreams embodied in those National Goals and Directives Principles.

Forty years after independence, and we have nothing to show for it. There has been a total decline in services. All our village aid posts have closed down. The typical haus kiap and haus polis in each village is a concept no longer heard of in the country. The visiting magistrate is no longer seen outside the established towns and cities. The kiap and the didiman under the colonial system is no longer an aspect of government presence within the country. The village schools are barely surviving because of committed teachers who work under very harsh conditions.

And where is all that money the government makes from our gold, oil and gas in the country? It all goes into the politicians' pockets. Little wonder they all walk around like "44 gallon drums". And little wonder they all hide in heavily-tinted land cruisers as they cruise around towns and cities and will not be seen until the election time.

Let us say, "Enough Is Enough". And let this be the slogan for the coming national elections. Or, let it be "Operation Rausim ol Stilman". Let us not allow the present batch of politicians to return to power. Let us make sure that they do not corrupt our electoral officers to switch ballot boxes and win the election that way.

But more importantly, let us all put the pressure on the current members of parliament to change the present law to return ownership of the resources to the people. Let us not maintain this farce where we have unconsciously allowed ownership rights to our resources to be placed in the hands of politicians and their civil servants under the notion of state ownership. Let us change that meaningless piece of legislation.

IT'S ON THIS YEAR

The National Population and housing Census is now on and it will be conducted from the 11th to the 17th July 2011.

The Census is the head count of every living person in the country, old and even babies born at the time of the Census, including non-citizens.

Emphasizing its importance, The National Planning Minister, The Hon. Paul Tiensten said,

"AS GOVERNMENT, WE NEED THIS QUALITY DATA TO PLAN AND RE-SHAPE THE FUTURE OF OUR COUNTRY BY EMPOWERING OUR PEOPLE THROUGH EFFECTIVE SERVICE DELIVERY."

CENSUS AND COMMON ROLL

The Census and the updating of the Electoral Common Roll are both taking place this year. On the surface, the two exercises may appear to be the same but they are different and have their own distinctive roles and purposes.

The Census is conducted every ten years by the National Statistical Office.

The Common Roll on the other hand, is the Registration of names of all Papua New Guineans who are 18 and over. This exercise is carried out by the Electoral Commission every five years. The information is used primarily for election purposes. Eligible voters can then exercise their constitutional rights to choose leaders. Non citizens cannot register nor can they vote in an election.

Normally, these two National events would take place at different times but this time they are simultaneous. But one should not be confused with the other.

Teams from the Census office will visit Households to count individuals where as the Electoral Commission wants eligible voters to register and will cast their votes at the polling booths. For the census, everyone is obliged to co-operate and answer all the questions the teams ask.

The Census and Common Roll are important pre-requisites for sound planning and election of right leaders. Ultimately, both are in the best interest of the people and Papua New Guinea.

have seen firsthand the mounting road accident statistics and the devastating effect on those initially involved, plus the utter despair placed upon family and loved ones in the aftermath of what is so often a single careless action. This heartbreak and loss is only compounded when suffered over what is supposed to be a happy holiday period such as Easter.

At this time I again ask everyone to please consider the key elements of change targeted by the Road Safety campaign – Speeding, Drink Driving, PMV Overloading, Pedestrian Safety, and having the right as a passenger speak up against reckless driving practices.

I would also ask everyone to please think twice before getting into their vehicle over the holidays and remember that Easter is a wonderful time to spend with family and friends, but one that also symbolises sacrifice. Perhaps this is a time some personal sacrifices can be made, such as holding back on the amount of alcoholic drinks consumed at a gathering.

On behalf of everyone at MVIL I wish you all a safe time on the roads this public holiday period and a happy Easter.

Through my association with MVIL I

MINISTER'S SPEECH

INVITED Guests, Secretary, Staff, Ladies and Gentlemen, it gives me tremendous pleasure to be given the privilege of standing here before you as well as the Guest of Honor and officiate at this momentous occasion to witness the Launching of the Department of Transport's Corporate Plan and the parading of the Department's new Uniforms.

At this juncture though, let us reminisce and pay tribute to the former Minister for Transport and Works and now the Minister for Foreign Affairs and Immigration, the Honorable Don Pomb Polye, MP, for the very commendable manner in which he led the Department. Full Credit goes to the Hon. Minister for the work that has gone into producing this Corporate Plan.

In actual fact, he had written the Foreword to the Corporate Plan and I have with pleasure endorsed the Statement remains.

There appears to be something special about the year 2011.

- Those who observe history identifies a phenomenon that occurs every 825 years – which is that, if you take the last two digits of the year you were born and add to it the age you will reach this year, you will obtain a value of 111. There is no scientific explanation to it; it is just a phenomenon that has been observed.
- 2011 has been labeled the Year of Implementation by the Government in a deliberate attempt by the Government to signal that the Years of Complacency and Wastage in terms of Government Agencies' Efforts towards effectively Delivering Services to the people are gone.
- 2011 also marks the first full year of operation of the Government's overarching development plan dubbed PNG Vision 2050. This is the high level Development Plan into which the National Development Strategy (NDS) 2010 – 2030 and the accompanying medium term rolling development plans feed into.
- By coincidence perhaps but 2011 also happens to be the Year that the Department of Transport has had to review and formulate its new medium term strategies, programs and activities which interpret the Government's overarching development objectives as set out in PNG Vision 2050 and the National Development Strategy.

Further on the above, I am led to believe that the development of the National Transport Strategy (NTS) 2011 – 2030 is already at an advanced stage and I am hopeful that we can also launch this within the next couple of months or so.

The Corporate Plan is linked to the Papua New Guinea Vision 2050, the National Development Strategy (NDS) 2010 – 2030, the Medium Term Development Plan 2010 – 2015, the National Transport Strategy (NTS) 2011 – 2030 and the Medium term Transport Plan 2011 – 2015 which are all intended to be used as a "Road Map" to provide a clear and defined strategy for sustainable improvement in the Transport Sector.

Faced with economic difficulties and uncertainties, the Government had made a right decision in which a three – pronged Five-Year Policy Statement was delivered in Parliament by the Prime Minister in 2002. While we still have some way to go to achieve our objectives, the policy emphasizes good governance, and export driven economic growth and fostering of rural development, poverty alleviation and human resource development for which transport infrastructure improvement and development is a corner stone to keep the wheels of the economy turning.

The Corporate Plan 2010 – 2015 articulates the core functions that will assist to achieve efficient and effective management, implementation, monitoring and coordination and control of the Department's responsibilities chartered in its mandate.

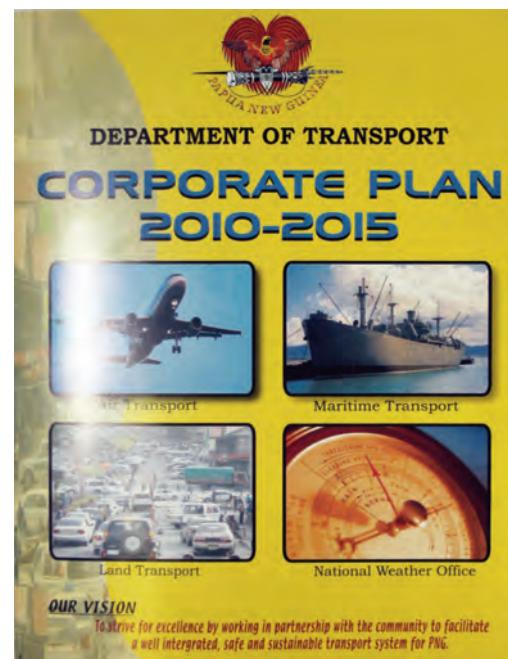

As the new Minister for Transport, I will support the priorities that have been set for the Department. This includes Legislative reforms covering the land, sea and air transport sectors and restructuring them to deliver services efficiently and effectively. The further institutional and regulatory reforms that have occurred within the air transport sub-sector (former CAA Group) are noted in respect of the above. I will support further institutional and regulatory reforms that will occur within the Transport Sector.

Just as my predecessor did, I pledge to work closely with the AusAID, ADB, World Bank and other donor partners to ensure strategic partnerships are maintained. I will also focus on strengthening our international relationships including complying with international conventions to which PNG is a signatory, and adopting international best practices across the three (3) modes of transport.

Papua New Guinea is the largest developing country in the South Pacific with a land mass of 462,840 square kilometers and a sea area of 3.12 million square kilometers. It is made up of the eastern half of the Island of New Guinea with the western half being the Indonesian Province of Irian Jaya and many outer lying islands.

The coastline of mainland Papua New Guinea is mostly low-lying and swamp (marshy) flood plains in the Papuan Delta areas (of Western and Gulf) and Sepik. From the lowlands, the land rises to the rugged mountains terrain of the interior. This landscape of the mountainous interior is predominant of the mainland and a couple of the bigger islands of New Britain and Bougainville.

Papua New Guinea has a population of over 5.3 million people (2001 est.) Against a land area of 463,000 square kilometers, this translates to a population density of 10.8 persons per square kilometer, among the lowest in the world.

The majority of the population lived in rural communities comprising mostly subsistence farmers who provide much of their food supplements. There are pockets of the rural communities which are engaged in small holder cash crop farming but most are rural subsistence farmers who produce all that they consume and sell surplus to requirements at the local or nearby urban and road side markets. Transport is an enabling service which is forerunner to any other modern day activity or service that might go into a community. Given the above kind of geographical features, developing an effective transport infrastructure network is a very challenging task for anyone.

Transport plays a vital role in creating and supporting economic growth by providing linkages from production areas to markets and for the efficient delivery of services between centers. Well maintained transport infrastructure is essential for the efficient flow of consumer goods and services to village communities.

The existence of a reliable and safe transport system will create an environment conducive to economic growth – impacting on agricultural production, development in small scale processing, provision of extension services, banking and to a large extent, enhance income earning opportunities.

To be sure, as a Sector, we did not achieve all that we set out to do and achieve in the previous Transport Strategy (the National Transport Development Plan (NTDP 2006 – 2010). Among other things, this was due to lack of adequate funding. However, on other fronts such as legal and institutional reforms, all necessary institutional and legislative reforms and requirements have been put in place to ensure the successful delivery of and effective implementation of the NTS 2011-2030.

This has been achieved through the establishment of the NRA and the NMSA and further institutional and regulatory reforms in the Aviation Sector and the enshrinement of their respective Acts.

Economic growth brings economic development but the "inclusive-ness" of development is an important issue for policy makers. To this end the necessary question to ask is: "Are the benefits of economic growth shared by all so as to contribute to the reduction of poverty?"

We know that this is not guaranteed. Economic growth is a necessary condition for poverty reduction but not a sufficient one. Infrastructure, however, plays a dual role. It supports higher economic growth and also strengthens the sharing of the benefits of growth. Perhaps an illustration may serve useful on the notion of "inclusive-ness" in economic development which can be facilitated by transport infrastructure development.

The pumping of millions of kina for a Housing Development to capture the market provided by the Multi-Billion Kina LNG related Petroleum Park Development at Konebada (Port Moresby) to provide accommodation for the influx of people attracted by the project will not benefit the Goilala Family in the Koiai Mountains one iota way as much as it would benefit the traditional landowners on whose land the developments were taking place.

The Goilala Family would benefit had the Government decided to build a rural class 3 road just to provide basic road infrastructure with a portion of the money. The Government has a challenging job with managing finite resources to address an infinite number of competing priorities that emanate from across the country.

Ladies and Gentlemen, let us reiterate that 2011 is dubbed the Years of Implementation by the Government. You are aware the Government is serious about this since your Secretary and the other Heads of Agencies were summoned to attend a Meeting with the Deputy Prime Minister at the start of the year where this was spelt out to them.

You have appropriately incorporated this into your Corporate Plan and subsequently will be translated into your Divisional and individual Annual Work Plans.

For us in the Transport Sector, the challenge is great since transport is an enabling service. I know we are duty bound to pick up the challenge and do all in our realm of authority to improve the lot of the majority of our people living in the rural areas. Allocating of adequate financial resources will continue to be a problem and it is not going to go away any sooner but it is not our job to continue to wonder about that.

We have to do what we have to do within the means of our capacity and capacity to deliver. I do not believe anyone can blame us if we do that.

Secretary, I commend you and your Staff on the Corporate Plan. I also commend you on building a Corporate Plan Image through the deliberate decision to have your staff wear uniforms as a way of identifying yourselves and forge a closer working relationship among and between your staff.

With these brief Remarks Secretary, I offer you and your Staff my Hearty Congratulations!

HON. BENJAMIN POPONAWA, MP

Minister for Transport and Civil Aviation

LAUNCHING OF THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORT CORPORATE PLAN AND PARADING OF UNIFORM

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY

IN December 2009 the Prime Minister launched Vision 2050, a forty year strategic direction for the nation. This vision rests on seven pillars of:

- i Human capital development, gender, youth and people empowerment;
- ii Wealth creation;
- iii Institutional development and service delivery;
- iv Security and international relations;
- v Environmental sustainability and climate change;
- vi Spiritual, cultural and community development; and
- vii Strategic planning, integration and control.

Transport is a fundamental enabling service that underpins the economic and social development of Papua New Guinea. Every one of these seven pillars is related in some way to transport.

This Corporate Plan 2010-2015 could not be more timely given that we have come to realize and to think very seriously about the future of our network of roads, airports, wharves, navigational aids and other related infrastructure facilities that have been inadequately funded over recent years.

With the forthcoming release of the National Transport Strategy (NTS) and the Medium Term Transport Plan (MTTP) it is appropriate to undertake a review of the Corporate Plan with the aim of ensuring that the activities of the Department of Transport (DoT) reflect the direction and priorities outlined in the key strategic plans and strategies. The formulation and development of this Corporate Plan has been a challenge with the focus moving to setting and delivering on the following six key result areas:

1. Enhancing Governance Systems, Processes and Structures
2. Developing Policy and Planning

3. Supporting Service Delivery Improvement
4. Developing Enabling Functions
5. Partnerships for Development
6. Monitoring, Evaluation and Reporting

The key result areas are interdependent and require all aspects to be in place and working as a 'whole' to make the sector work more effectively.

It is important that the Department works closely with relevant stakeholders to ensure a well coordinated approach to policy development, regulation control, and implementation and monitoring of approved policies and work programmes in the land, air and maritime transport.

I challenge all staff government agencies and other stakeholders to work in unison to maintain and build the infrastructure that is required for the economic and social development of our country.

HENRY SAIYO PARAKEI, MBE
Secretary
Department of Transport

Organizational performance against the Corporate Plan will be reviewed, monitored and evaluated at set times during the year.

Key Result Areas

The Department's Corporate Plan for 2010 – 2015 incorporates a new approach in moving to a focus on six key result areas. The intent is to integrate and align the various responsibilities of the agency into one plan that links the Department's strategic policy context to the mandate, the vision, the mission and values.

The plan also seeks to address the Government of Papua New Guinea's reform agenda and importantly the strategic organizational performance and capacity issues that need to be effectively managed to ensure the expectations of the various stakeholders are met.

The linkage and alignment has been addressed by adopting the following six key result areas as a focus for the Department's efforts.

1. Enhancing Governance, Systems, Processes and Structures
2. Developing Policy and Planning
3. Supporting Service Delivery Improvement
4. Developing Internal Enabling Functions
5. Partnerships for Development
6. Monitoring, Evaluation and Reporting

While the key result areas are all inter-dependent for the sector to operate effectively all aspects must be in place and working as a 'whole'.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORT CORPORATE PLAN 2010 - 2015

Appendix A – STRATEGIC PLANS AND STRATEGIES

Papua New Guinea Vision 2050 (PNGV50)

Also known as Vision 2050, and often referred to as the National Strategic Plan, provides an overarching directional statement for Papua New Guinea's future. PNGV50 is built on seven pillars.

- viii) Human capital development, gender, youth and people empowerment;
- ix) Wealth creation;
- x) Institutional development and service delivery;
- xi) Security and international relations;
- xii) Environment sustainability and climate change;

- xiii) Spiritual, cultural and community development; and
- xiv) Strategic planning, integration and control.

In particular, the third pillar calls for an increase in the national road network, the development and sealing of airstrips, increase in the number of jetties and wharves and the progressive ownership by the Department of Works of the total road network. National Transport Strategy 2011 – 2030 and Medium Term Transport Plan 2011-2015

The Department of Transport is leading the preparation of the National Transport Strategy 2011-2030 (NTS) and the first Term Transport Plan (MTTP) 2011 to 2015 to replace the National Transport Development Plan 2006-2010 (NTDP).

2. Approval of the NTS by NEC is expected by the end of 2010 with implementation from 2011 onwards.

The Public Sector Reform Strategic Plan 2008-2012

Reform of the Public Sector in PNG is guided by the Public Sector Reform Management Unit which noted that the PNG Vision 2050 is to be further strengthened by the Public Sector Reform Strategic Plan 2008-2012 a working document with emphasis on improving delivery.

The reform process is an ongoing exercise with the primary responsibility for implementation being with each department, agency and provincial administration.

PARTNERSHIP FOR DEVELOPMENT

The Papua New Guinea-Australia Partnership for Development was agreed by Prime Minister Grand Chief Sir Michael Somare and Prime Minister Kevin Rudd during the Pacific Forum Leaders' Meeting held in Niue on 20 August, 2008. The Partnership for Development initiative represents a new era of cooperation between Australia and Papua New Guinea. A copy of the agreement can be found at <http://www.ausaid.gov.au/publications/pdf/png-partnership08.pdf>

The Partnership is founded on the principles of mutual understanding respect and responsibility for improved development outcomes and reflects the shared vision of the two governments to work together to meet the common challenges and to improve the quality of life of all Papua New Guineans.

Specifically, the Partnership seeks more rapid progress towards poverty reduction and the other Millennium Development Goals by 2015. To this end the Partnership has identified an initial five priority outcomes that will help secure the end objective of improved living standards for all Papua New Guineans. Priority Outcome 1 is transport infrastructure, focusing primarily on the maintenance and rehabilitation of road infrastructure with more limited support to the aviation and ports sub-sectors. The partnership supports implementation of PNG's National Transport Development Plan, which will be replaced by the National Transport Strategy (NTS) 2011 – 2030 and the Medium Term Transport Plan 2010-2015 (MTTP) during the life of this Corporate Plan.

Once the NTS and MTTP are finalized the partnership will be reviewed and the Transport Infrastructure Schedule will be amended to incorporate new activities and commitments.

Priority outcomes will take note of government effectiveness; regulatory quality; and control of corruption. Primary focus will be on building long-term capacity to enable the public service to deliver better services and an environment conducive to broad-based economic growth. Both Governments have agreed to pursue significant measurable progress towards achieving an efficient and effective public service in PNG by 2015. This will be measured by an improvement in the World Bank Institute (WBI) Government Effectiveness Score², and increased percentage of Papua New Guinea's Public Expenditure and Financial Accountability (PEFA) assessment scores being rated A or B³, and more provinces spending a greater proportion of available funds on basic service delivery, measured using three National Economic and Fiscal Commission (NEFC) indicators⁴.

2 The WBI considers six dimensions of government including: voice and accountability; political stability and absence of violence/terrorism; government effectiveness; regulatory quality; rule of law; and control of corruption.

3 An increase percentage of PEFA considers seven areas, all of which will be monitored and reported. These areas are: credibility of the budget; comprehensiveness and transparency; policy based budgeting; predictability and control of budget execution; accounting, recording and reporting; external scrutiny and audit; and donor practices.

4 More provinces spending a greater proportion of available funds on basic service delivery, measured using three NEFC indicators; the number of provinces rated 'good' under the NEFC Provincial Expenditure Review 'function grant expenditure nature test'; the number of provinces rated 'less than 5%' for unspent function grants according to the annual NEFC Provincial Revenue Study; and the number of provinces rated 'high' on spending performance level for health, education and infrastructure maintenance.

Appendix C – ASSESSMENT SCORES – 2009

In 2009 the Department of Transport took part in a study to establish a baseline as to the status of financial management capacity within Transport Sector Agencies in PNG. The Public Expenditure and Financial Accountability (PEFA) framework was used as the basis for the study as it provides a set of indicators for public financial management performance.

The presentation of evidence and explanation to support indicator scoring is an essential part of applying the PEFA set of high level indicators which are focused on the following:

- PFM – Credibility of the Budget
 - PEFA Key Cross Cutting Issues –
Comprehensiveness and Transparency

- The Budget Cycle
 - Donor Practices

The Financial Baseline Study has been adapted to incorporate issues identified as relevant to the transport sector:

- The priority areas identified by the Auditor-General's Office – PNG (AGO)
 - Issues raised in the Situation Analysis and Work Plans provided by Financial Management Advisers and counterpart, working in the transport sector
 - Recommendations accepted by the Transport Coordinating, Implementation and Monitoring Committee following a TSSP Monitoring Review.

The majority of individual performance indicators for the different areas are assigned on the basis of a score of either A, B, C or D where:

- A – Indicates a performance that is satisfactory in all or almost all respects
 - B – indicates that performance that is satisfactory in most respects but not all
 - C – Indicates performance that is satisfactory in only a few respects
 - D – indicates performance that is unsatisfactory in all or most respects

A variation to this methodology is applied in relation to performance indicators numbered PI- 1 to PI – 3 where the following criteria is applied:

- A – less than 5% deviation from budget
 - B – from 5% to less than 10% deviation from budget
 - C – from 10% to less than 15% deviation from budget
 - D – more than 15% deviation from budget

The following schedule provides a summary of the Department of Transport results assessed in terms of the three budget areas of – Recurrent & Operating Budget, Development Budgets and Trust Funds including Donor Practices.
