KIKSTATIM DEI WANTAIM

'We corrupt everything we touch'

LAST week was one hell of a week. There were far more surprises than we had expected.

Arthur Somare's Leadership Tribunal was set to kick start on Monday after all that lengthy delay, but when the case started, his Lawyer asked for a further delay until August 16. The reason?

Mr Somare wanted to collect statements from the people of Angoram, saying they were the ones who received the payments he made.

Then, the Tuesday papers carried headlines saying Arthur and Pruaitch were both on suspension.

Who said Pruaitch would take that nonsense lying down? He shot back by saying that as far as his legal advisors were concerned, the judges who came up with that crap can go to hell; he was still a minister of state and very much in office despite what the judges would like to believe.

The reason? That garbage by the judges was "obiter dicta".

But the biggest surprise was the comment by none other than the former Chief Justice, Sir Arnold Amet. Sir Arnold said bluntly that their Honours were engaged in a "tit for tat"; a form of dillydallying, wouldn't it be?

Yes, it does seem rather awkward that their Honours should forget about their litigant, Sir Michael, and then took a swipe at Pruaitch who correctly pointed out that he was not a party to the cases before them; meaning they should have confined themselves to stating what the law is, on the cases before them. And what would any ordinary man on the street be thinking about their honours' little spin off the course?

So what is now the legal position? Is Pruaitch a free man, or is he under suspension? It seems as if we now have to wait for the Supreme Court to make another decision on the law.

If their Honours did not get it right in the first round, they ought to have done it right in the second round and we all thought they did. However, they took another swipe at it in the third round and rather than confusing us, they ended up confused themselves, because why else is it that everybody else is saying they are clearly wrong?

And with Arthur Somare out of IPBC, who would now take his place?

Let us hope they do not give that away to Timothy Bonga who is now in Singapore. Timothy Bonga in Singapore doing what? Maybe holding a small meeting with some members of the kitchen cabinet. However, as time drags on, and as more and more confusion surfaces, the kitchen cabinet is finding out that their grip on power is fast slipping away.

They all should take a day off to visit Powes Parkop and Justin's water slides at Ela Beach and 13-Mile and try it out for themselves. There they will get the feel of what it means once you jump into that tube of fast flowing water on a slippery surface. This time, there is no water at the bottom which means a lot of things.

And over there in East New Britain, Leo Dion is still demanding a full scale investigation into the Nasfund Scandal, where K125 million was taken out to finance "development" projects in his province.

According to Dion, the last batch of investigators who visited his province to ascertain the extent of works undertaken for that K125 million ended up including on their list, some of the projects being funded by his government. So there is no end to this saga.

We agree with Dion that there ought to be a full scale enquiry into the matter. The terms of reference for this enquiry should be based on the findings by the Bank of PNG. A full-scale enquiry is necessary because there are so many conflicting versions of what was the actual transaction that took place, and what are the financial considerations underlying the particular transaction or series of transactions. Every one who has spoken in defence of this deal by nasfund, has something different to say. There does not appear to be any common ground among the people who cooked up this deal.

Meanwhile, it is our view that the Acting Prime Minister was wrong when he promised prematurely that the contributors' savings will be protected by the government. We say it was premature to make such a promise before attending to the problem at its core, namely, identifying the perpetrators and determining if there was any wrongdoing, and on whom to lay the blame, if any.

The investigation might show that the public reaction against this Deal was wrong and that the transaction was proper as it was legal. Only then should the government make its decision known and not before. It seems as if Mr Abal wants to give the impression of a do-gooder simply to impress the public on the eve of the coming national election. And if this is the kind of PM he will be, then it looks like there will be no improvement in the way decisions on matters of public importance will be made in this country. Whilst the Chief was the PM, it was the kitchen cabinet we had to contend with, and now it is Abal, the sole do-gooder we have to deal with. The signs do not tell us that it will be any better in the long run. The idea of power has already crept into Abal's head and it seems as if he will stop at nothing to wield it.

Now looking at the chaos on the local political scene. It is not hard to guess why we are so stagnant in the area of progress in this country.

To start with, the leaders do not seem to put any time and effort into matters of state or government and least of all is there any sound planning in their annual budgetary allocations. Their primary concern is how much each MP will be allocated, seemingly for his electorate, but in effect for him and his cronies.

Then come each budget session, we get bombarded with statements about macro and micro economics, inflation, GNP and plenty of statistics in the end to tell us nothing of practical significance.

Meanwhile, the wage earner has already worked it out that he or she cannot stretch that kina any further, because whilst the prices in all these Chinese supermarkets are climbing by the day, the wage packet is shrinking by the fortnight. And there is no sight of the Price Controller to regulate food prices in all these supermarkets.

Take the much talked about lamb flaps for instance. You go to any of these supermarkets, and you will see that a 500g packet of it costs K11.00 and yet, this is cheap stuff imported from New Zealand and they bring it into the country in bulk, so how can these supermarkets justify this monstrous price hike? We might as well ban it, because it is no longer a cheap form of protein for the common man on the street. It has become a means of exploitation of the masses by the money-hungry supermarket owner. And do we have a price controller in this country? Please, make an effort to visit all these supermarkets in Port Moresby for a start and then follow that up throughout the country.

Let us make the national budget a meaningful process of distribution of the national wealth. And fundamentally, it ought to be a fair or equitable distribution.

Presently, it seems that most of the budgetary allocations are swallowed up by high wages and perks, including travel expenses for those in the government work-force.

Some years back the wage bill for the government was approximately K26 million every fortnight. One wonders what it must now be like, given that most government departments are now statutory corporations, so the element of public control is somewhat vague, as each entity conducts its own affairs with a conniving Board of Directors who are the biggest crooks themselves as they are manipulated by the CEO of each such organizations with extra funds, allowances and frequent board meetings outside Port Moresby to access travel allowances for everybody including their "female secretaries" who must accompany them for one reason or another.

Getting back to the national budget, it does not require much to figure out that in this country, we have two distinctive areas to contend with in our allocation of funds.

That is, we have the rural areas with the bulk of the population commonly called the informal sector, and then we have the towns and cities called the formal sector, with less than 25% of the total population.

And what the rural areas need most are schools, hospitals, roads and bridges and generally a good network of transportation to connect each outlying area to a service centre like a District Centre. Most importantly, in our view there must be tangible government presence such as police stations and local and district courts and correctional institutions. Each district centre must be self-contained so that it can function as an arm of an effective government. And the funds for development of a district must not be placed in the hands of a local member. We ought to bring back the old system under which all necessary funds were placed in the hands of the Department of Works and Supplies who would be the only organization responsible for such works or infrastructure development.

Unfortunately, the Department of Works was put out of action by the national government in order to allow the MPs to find their own contractors, so that they could get their tips for allocating public contracts privately. And now, even the Central Tenders Board is corrupt, as all major contracts are given out before the empty gesture of advertising for tenders simply to be seen to comply with the Public Finances (Management) Act. Take for instance, one case in which a K2 company with its address being a residence somewhere in Hohola, was given a K3 million contract.

This is one strange country of weird people. We corrupt everything and anything that we touch. Take a look at the parliament for instance. We have never seen any meaningful debate that we were used to seeing during the times of Lambakey, Sir Julius, and Sir John Kaputin. You would think that since we are now well into the information age, our parliamentary debates should be more intense and inspiring and meaningful but that is not the case.

To start with, the Speaker is one weak soul manipulated by the members in government who will use their numbers to gag debate by other members, and in particular, the opposition. The effect of this is that issues of importance and concern are not highlighted so the stagnation continues.

And now look at the judiciary. This is one area where we as a country have not made any meaningful progress. The constitution tells us that our system of government and laws are based on the English legal system, and our judiciary is given the mandate to develop a legal system suited to this country. Unfortunately, we have failed very badly since independence. Let us hope that a new government under Abal will start to consider importing judges from other common law countries like England, Australia, New Zealand, and India.

Finally, we cannot expect much by way of orderly progression in this country, unless and until our leaders wake up to the fact that their primary function is to use the national purse for the interest of the people at large. If Lelang is correct that millions of public moneys have been stolen from the Department of Planning, then that allegation must now be looked into, and thieves sent behind bars. Meanwhile, would Mr Tony Wagambie, please, get his cops off Mr Lelang's back. And would Mr Wagambie also tell the public why his policemen are providing Ms Zarriga, the Acting Secretary, 24 hours' protection where there is no threat to her life or property?

TAKE OWNERSHIP OF CENSUS

As enumerations go out this week to conduct the National Census, all Public Servants throughout the country have been called on to take a lead in ensuring that the whole exercise is a success.

The call was made by the National Statistician, Mr. Joseph Aka before the start of the enumeration.

Mr. Aka said Public Servants stand out as special group of Papua New Guineans who are knowledgeable and fully comprehend the need and the significance of the Census data in the total picture of Nation Building.

Therefore it is incumbent on them as their civil duty to assist interviewers and other workers in this Census.

There are 70 to 80,000 public servants in the country and many of them, particularly teachers (former and current) are now engaged as enumerators.

Mr. Aka appeared on special TV and Radio Infomercials starting at the weekend to make the appeal to Public Servants to assist with the Census.

He said the Census and the National Elections are two events that have considerable National significance; the Census is conducted every ten years by the National Statistical Office and the elections, every five years by the Electoral Commission.

Mr. Aka said their success depends on the level of commitment and input from knowledgeable Papua New Guineans.

He urged them to take ownership of this census.

About 40,000 enumerators at all the 338 urban rural LLGs are now visiting all households in their respective areas to count and collect other demographics about the people in the country at this time.

It's the culmination of months of preparation work by the National Census Office.

The week long exercise is set to be completed by the end of this Friday.

Wok painimaut noken stap hait

TUPELA wiik bihain long bipo sekreteri bilong nesenel plening, Joseph Lelang i kamautim ol sut toktok olsem ol memba na ol sindia opisa insait long fainens na tresari i paulim samting olsem K1.2 bilian kina, nau polis komisina bai kirapim wok painim long en.

Em i wapelola wiik bihain long Polis Komisina Tony Wagambie i wok strong olsem ol polisman bilong em i wok long mekim wok bilong ol tasol taim ol painim Lelang long sasim em.

Komisina i mas klia.

Sapos Lelang i no bin kamaut wantaim ol dispela sut toktok, bai yumi no inap long save long paul pasin i stap.

Planti manmeri i kamaut pinis long bipo, tasol toktok bilong ol i no karim strong.

Lelang, husat i bin wok long plening longpela taim, i go insait long tresari na fainens, na i luksave long planti samting.

Sapos ol sut toktok bilong em i gat as, i gutpela pabilik i harim save kaikai bilong wok painimaut polis i mekim.

Long sait bilong Minista bilong Nesenel Plening na Rural Developmen, em i tok olsem olgeta wok bilong mani i ron stret, na i nogat paul pasin insait long en.

Tasol askim planti long ol pipel i wok lukluk bihainim skelim bilong ol dispela mani, i save olsem planti wok skelim bilong ol developmen o mani i kam aninit long Distrik Sevises Impruvmen Program o DSIP em i gat rot na taim bilong em i go aut.

Tasol taim i gat meknais insait long politiks sindaun bilong kantri, planti taim, bai i nogat toksave long mani gavman i save holim pas long pulim sapot bilong ol memba.

I tru, olgeta wok bilong peim dispela ol mani i go aut long ol memba i bihainim stret loa.

Tasol long wanem taim, na long wanem as tru olgeta memba bilong kantri i no kisim, em i narapela samting.

Pasin bilong givim toktok long antap tasol, bihainim ol teknikal toktok bilong kliarim sut toktok, em i no inap.

Sapos polis i laik tru long painim aut asua bilong ol wok mani bilong kantri, em i mas sanap strong.

Komisina Wagambie, na ol wokmanmeri bilong spesol yunit bilong polis bai wok bung wantaim NACA i noken abrus.

Mekim wok painimaut we i klia, bai pipel bilong kantri i ken save tru husat em i stilman i karim nating nem bi-long lida o wasman bilong mani bilong pipel.
